

Caldwell Exempted Village School District Selects GovDeals to Sell Assets from Former School

March 21, 2023

District plans to sell classroom items ahead of planned demolition

CALDWELL, Ohio, March 21, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Caldwell Exempted Village School District (CEVSD) is currently offering classroom items from one of its former schools on GovDeals, the leading online marketplace for government agencies and educational institutions to sell surplus assets. Bids for these assets are being accepted immediately.

Over the last year, the CEVSD has made improvements to enhance parts of the campus for students. Built in 1921, the older school section of the campus will be demolished later this year as part of the district's improvement project. The demolition presents the district with a unique opportunity to earn additional funds by selling the assets of the school as surplus.

Some highlights of the sale include:

- School furniture
- Musical Equipment
- Classroom Items
- Hardwood flooring
- 2 Wrought Iron Guard Rails

"The Caldwell Schools are near and dear to the heart of so many people around the county, we just want to be able to allow the community to have their own piece of it," says Greg Gifford, superintendent for Caldwell Exempted Village School District.

To bid on auctions from Caldwell Exempted Village School District, all interested parties must first create an account and complete the free registration form at GovDeals.com/Register.
